

Troops Gain Respect for Atom Blasts

Are Confident, Also, It Can Be Decisive Weapon

LAS VEGAS, NEV. — (AP) — Radio-active Joe, America's first atomic foot soldier, brushed himself off, grunted his chattering teeth, and cracked:

"H-H-Hell, Mac. Maybe this thing ain't so bad after all." That—if army spokesmen are correct—might be the consensus of the pioneer nuclear shock troops jolted in exercise Desert Rock yesterday.

Joe's own story of life with the A-bomb is slated to be told in part, anyway, at a news conference today. A dozen or more front line soldiers will tell what it was like to be within 10 miles of the powerful blast, which rumbled like an earthquake through the surrounding desert and mountains, and broke seven store windows in Las Vegas, 75 miles away.

Congressmen Impressed
Today four congressmen who witnessed the historic maneuver issued a statement saying tactical atomic weapons, if delivered accurately and used in sufficient numbers, can give our troops a sledgehammer advantage.

Reps. Melvin Price (D-Ill.), Charles Elston (R-Ohio), Carl Hinchey (R-Calif.), and Chet Holifield (D-Calif.), members of the joint congressional atomic energy committee, said:

"We were impressed by the finite (limited) nature of a single atomic blast. The explosion yesterday morning could not by itself have performed military miracles. To attain decisive results on the battlefield we would need massed atomic firepower, just as we have always needed massed conventional firepower."

Healthy Respect
"In talking to the troops about their reaction, we gained the impression that they developed both a healthy respect for the power of atomic force and a sense of confidence that they can use it effectively against an enemy and combat its use against themselves."

They quoted one soldier as saying in some ways the explosion was worse than he expected. But the soldier expressed surprise, the congressman said, at the protection afforded by a foxhole.

Joe "Had It"

There is little doubt that radio-active Joe "had it" yesterday. Although he was well protected, hunched low in scientific observation areas in the hills surrounding the Yucca Flat test site, you can imagine what the blast wave was like in his position. Newsmen 30 miles away reported their clothing was whipped by the blast.

Near the base camp, Desert Rock, the blast blew rocks and brush into the air. On Mt. Charleston, 50 miles away, the bomb—and it was no baby one—struck in two thunderous cracks less than five minutes after it flashed white over the test site.

Less Spectacular
This fourth detonation in the Atomic Energy Commission's test series was stronger, but less spectacular than the third one Tuesday. Plane-dropped, it burst at less than 1,000 feet and appeared to be on a par with weapons tested here last winter. It was America's 21st major atomic explosion, unofficially. High winds swept the nuclear cloud up to 40,000 feet and past Las Vegas in an hour. It drifted another 75 miles before dissipating.

The AEC reported above-normal radiation from Indian Springs to Las Vegas, but said that it was far below the level considered harmful to humans, animals, crops or water supplies.

Besides the front line battalion of more than 1,000 men, some 4,000 service troops were on hand for the maneuver. More than 2,000 official observers representing every branch of the service saw the test.

DISMISS SUIT
DANVILLE, (AP) — A suit charging the Hannsburg school board with segregating Negro students has been dropped.
Federal Judge Casper Platt dismissed the $5,000 damage suit at the request of the plaintiffs, a group of Negro residents. They asked the damages because they said the school board denied their children adequate school facilities.

Selective Service Boosts January Draft Call

Near-Record Quota to Get Service Call

Draft Heads Also Extend Liability To 35-Year Limit

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Defense department today offset its "Christmas gift" lull in drafting men into service by asking for 59,650 in January—the largest number for any month since last spring.

The December call was for only 16,900 men, with all inductions suspended during the Dec. 21-Jan. 2 holiday period. The record high was 80,000 last March. The average has been about 40,000 a month.

Of the January total 48,000 will go to the army, 11,650 to the marine corps.

The department explained the January jump by saying it made up for the low December call, and

LARGEST IN HISTORY

CHICAGO, (AP) — State Selective Service headquarters estimated today that about 6,500 men from Illinois will be required to meet the defense department's January call for 59,650 draftees.

Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state Selective Service director, said the Illinois quota is the largest from the state since World War II. The estimate was based on past percentages of calls.

provided for "an orderly build-up of the armed forces," particularly the marine corps which is being boosted from 204,000 to 236,000 men.

Extend Age Limit
In another announcement today, Selective Service estimated that about 2,000,000 men have had their liability for military duty extended from their 26th to their 35th birthday.

These are men under 26 who

The D. A. Loses His Bite—The Top Half

JASPER, Tenn., (AP)—The state got its teeth into a murder trial in which John Stewart was charged with killing his wife and for a few moments the proceedings were halted completely.

Assistant Dist. Atty. A. F. Sloan was winding up his arguments with great vigor when his upper plate flew out and skidded across the courtroom floor.

The judge, like the spectators, was convulsed with laughter and made no attempt to restore order immediately.

After the proceedings were resumed, Sloan reached high gear again only to clasp his hand over his mouth suddenly. "I almost lost 'em again," he gulped.

Air Action Flares as Infantry Awaits Outcome of Peace Talks

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(AP)—Allied airmen shot down one Red jet and damaged four in nine separate dog fights today—a record number of air battles for a single day in the Korean war.

The Fifth air force said all United Nations planes "involved in these encounters returned safely to their bases."

The blazing air war contrasted with cold quiet on the snow covered ground fronts.

The one Red jet sent spiraling down in flames was the 100th MIG-15 reported downed by the Fifth air force. B-29 gunners are credited with blasting 33 others out of the skies.

Airmen from three United Nations were involved in Friday's fights, ranging over northwest Korea as much as 100 miles from the Manchurian border.

24 Against 44
The fiercest engagement was between 24 U. S. F-86 Sabre jets and 44 MIGs. One MIG went down in flames.

Sixteen Royal Australian air force fighters took on 25 Red jets and damaged two.

South African pilots in propeller driven Mustangs came through unscathed, the Fifth air force said, when a flight of MIGs attacked them just north of Pyongyang. The North Korean capital is 100 miles from the Yalu river boundary between Ko-

It Was 14 in Dixon Area This Morning

Dixon's low temperature of 14 above between 7 and 8 p.m. today was the lowest recorded in this area.

Reports from around Illinois showed the following readings: Chicago, 19.8; Peoria and Quincy, 20; Moline, 17; Rockford, 18; Springfield and Rantoul, 24; Van-dalia, 26, and E. St. Louis, 28.

No large bodies of ice have formed on Rock river despite the sub freezing temperatures. An official at the Public Service company hydroelectric stations said that water temperature is still relatively high and it will take several days of extreme cold before large quantities of ice appear. However, some ice was seen around the piers at the substation this morning.

Several reports have been received that a small snow flurry hit Dixon shortly after 7 p.m. Thursday. Weather reports for this area show continued cold weather. The low tonight should be about 20 with a high Saturday of 40.

Burlington Train Kills LaMoille Man In Mendota Crash

MENDOTA, (AP) — Lawrence Alshouse, 41, of Rt. 1, LaMoille, was fatally injured today when his truck was hit by a crack Burlington passenger train at a crossing near Mendota.

Alshouse died at 7 a. m. in Mendota Community hospital, a half hour after the accident.

Alshouse was en route to the nearby farm of his brother, Marvin, to pick corn when his truck was struck.

There was no immediate explanation of the accident. The crew of the train, the Aksarben Zephyr, will attend an inquest at Mendota tomorrow. The train was delayed briefly by the mishap and arrived in Chicago 45 minutes late.

Strikes at Borg-Warner Called Off

DETROIT, (AP)—Yielding to pleas from President Truman, the CIO United Auto Workers today called off at least temporarily its three-week strike at 10 Borg-Warner Corp. plants.

The UAW's top policy committee voted to "recess" the strike to permit an attempt at settlement by the government's Wage Stabilization Board.

But in doing so, it implied a threat to call the 6,500 strikers out again if the WSB's terms are not satisfactory.

"Liberty against Socialism; honesty and integrity in Washington; the bad judgement and mistakes of the Truman Administration in foreign policy, and the spending that is being authorized now and the estimate of government spending in 1953."

Head for Yalu
Forty MIGs swept down on an escort flight of Sabre jets, but quickly turned tail and headed for the Yalu river.

In addition to the 133 MIGs shot down, the air force reports 47 probably destroyed and 246 damaged... a total of 426.

The extent of the air action was in marked contrast with infantry action, which has fallen off to minor clashes since truce negotiations resumed at Panmunjom.

Two small Red probing attacks and a foray by an Allied patrol were the only actions reported in a U. S. Eighth army communique Friday evening. The Red attacks were beaten back southeast of Kumsong. The patrol destroyed several Red bunkers north of Ganggu.

Dixon Firemen Battle Fazzi Store Blaze

DIXON FIREMEN are shown scaling the storage building at the rear of the Fazzi Television and Service store, 104 N. Galena avenue this afternoon, in battling a blaze which caused considerable damage. They had the smoky fire under control in a little more than a half-hour. The storage room was jammed with television sets and other electrical apparatus.

Taft Praises Eisenhower as General, But Not President

CHICAGO, (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today praised his possible competitor for the GOP presidential nomination, General Eisenhower, for "a very good job" in Europe.

Taft, in Chicago to address a $100-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner tonight, told a news conference that Eisenhower "has done a very good job of stirring up the Europeans to their danger and to arming themselves."

"He's very persuasive," the Senator added. — He nodded agreement to a reporter's suggestion that Europe might be considered a good place for Ike.

Eisenhower was called back to the United States for conferences with President Truman yesterday in a move which came as a surprise to most politicians who wonder whether the General will seek nomination for the presidency next year.

Ike As Candidate
Senator Taft refused to discuss Eisenhower's qualifications as a candidate for the Republican nomination, or to speculate on possible political significance in talks between President Truman and the military chief.

He did say, however, that, if Eisenhower announced intentions to seek the Republican nomination "I don't think it would make much difference."

"The people who are for me are for me. They're not for me conditionally."

Make Contest Active
He conceded that an announcement by Eisenhower "would make the contest more active."

Asked to list the issues he thinks will be most important in the 1952 election, Taft gave these four:

"Liberty against Socialism; honesty and integrity in Washington; the bad judgement and mistakes of the Truman Administration in foreign policy, and the spending that is being authorized now and the estimate of government spending in 1953."

Should Cut Tax Exemptions
He said that the administration should survey "every activity of government" with a view to cutting expenses, and stressed that "the military program ought to be reexamined."

He reiterated that he has not rejected support of Senator McCarthy, thinks the Wisconsin Senator took effective steps to combat Communism in government, but takes exception to McCarthy's accusation that General Marshall worked hand in glove with Communists.

Blood Needed Urgently But Dixonites Appear Stymied

Despite urgent appeals for whole blood for the wounded in Korea any Lee county person wanting to donate blood would have to travel either to Peoria or Chicago to give it.

Efforts are being made through the county Red Cross chapter and the Elks club to get a mobile blood collection unit to visit Dixon but plans still are in the formative stage, according to County Red Cross Chairman Morey C. Pires.

However, after Jan. 1, a mobile unit will be in Rockford every 30 days. To donate blood there the donor should contact the Winnebago county Red Cross chapter. If volunteers want to go to Peoria or Chicago they should contact the Red Cross chapters in those cities for information.

Supervisors Association Officers at Meeting

Nineteen delegates from eight counties attended the Northern division meeting at the Dixon township hall.

Ike, Truman to Talk Politics, Capital Rumor

NATO Commander Flying Home for White House Confab

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Next Monday's meeting between President Truman and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will provide the chief executive opportunity to pose a question of administrative as well as political import to him:

Will Eisenhower leave his post of supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe to seek a presidential nomination in 1952?

If so, the president undoubtedly would like to know that now so he can advise the other member nations of the North Atlantic treaty organization, perhaps privately, they should begin thinking about someone to fill the job.

Unanimous Choice

Eisenhower was appointed to the supreme command early this year at the request of the other 11 members of the NATO. He was picked essentially because of his fame and personality while supreme commander of Allied forces in World War II, not primarily because he was an American.

Whether the European members of NATO would want another American commander, like Gen. Omar Bradley, now chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, remains to be seen.

Churchill Balks

Winston Churchill is back as prime minister of Britain. Before he was returned he had voiced some outspoken comment when the proposal was made to give a supreme command in the Mediterranean to an American and not to a Briton. It is conceivable that he might still be of that mind if the question of a new supreme commander of Western European forces arose. Perhaps the pressure might turn toward one of Britain's own famous World War II military chiefs, like Viscount Montgomery, the testy but battle-wise field marshal of the empire's forces in North Africa and Europe.

Produces Surprise
Announcement that Eisenhower would be in the capital Monday and Tuesday produced some surprise and puzzlement.

White House Secretary Joseph Short said the general was making the flying trip at the suggestion of Truman.

This seemed fully accurate. It was learned that the first indication the Pentagon had of the plan was when the president informed military officials that Eisenhower would come to Washington for conferences.

Short said Eisenhower's talks while here—with the president, state department and defense officials—would cover matters affecting the supreme Allied command the North Atlantic defense setup.

No Crisis
Most of the top military and political officials have or within the next few weeks will have talked with Eisenhower about the progress and problems of the European defense organizing was European defense organization.

The possibility that some crisis

George Roos, Oregon, Dies Of Wounds

OREGON—George F. Roos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roos of near Oregon, is dead of wounds received in action in Korea, his parents have been informed.

He was in the front lines for some time before being wounded fatally. He was born at the farm home northeast of Oregon Sept. 13, 1925, and entered the army Feb. 7, 1951. He took basic training at Camp Breckenridge, Ky. and remained there until May 30.

Roos then was sent to Ft. Lawton, Wash., and shipped overseas. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Hildred, now in the navy at Great Lakes, and Andrew at home. Before entering the service Roos worked on the farm. He was a member of the Ebenezer Reformed church.

North Galena Fire Checked By Two Squads

Building Packed With Television Sets, Appliances

Fire swept through a store-room at the Fazzi Television Sales and Service on North Galena avenue today, causing heavy damage.

Dixon firemen, using two trucks, brought the blaze under control in about a half-hour after it first threatened to spread to the entire structure.

The blaze was discovered about 12:30 p.m. by E. L. (Babe) Fazzi, the owner, who said he first noticed smoke emanating from a door which separates the store showrooms from the storage room.

The two-story frame storage room was packed with television sets and other electrical merchandise.

A large portion of it was carried to the front sidewalk by volunteers. Many items were destroyed by the blaze or were damaged by water and smoke.

As firemen were quelling the flames, Flora Braski, a sister of Fazzi, fainted and had to be given first aid. She was not overcome by smoke. She regained consciousness a short time later.

Fire Chief Jake Johnson said that the origin of the blaze was not determined. Rural Fire Chief John Quest and his squad aided in battling the blaze.

Fazzi said that his loss was covered by insurance.

Police immediately blocked off traffic from the area surrounding the fire. City officers were aided by state officers and Chief Deputy Sheriff John Stauffer. Traffic was blocked off at River street, Everett and Galena and Peoria. All vehicles were routed over the Galena avenue bridge during the blaze.

Sterling Teacher Gets Continuance On Morals Charge

STERLING—A Sterling junior high school teacher, C. E. Rouse, was arrested here Thursday night on a morals charge involving a five-year old girl.

When he appeared before Justice of the Peace Louis B. Ottmanns Friday morning his case was continued until 10 a.m. Nov. 15. The teacher was released under $5,000 bond.

Rouse was arrested on a complaint by James Gaffney, father of the girl. It was understood the child was not harmed. Rouse was held overnight in the Whiteside county jail.

Cookie Burglars

Burglars — probably junior grade—broke into the home of Herb Nichols, 304 Crawford av., last night and took five cookies.

Entrance to the Nichols house was made by opening a window facing out on the south porch of the house.

Nothing was taken except the cookies and the burglars left apparently the way they came in. One cookie was left untouched.

How Sweet the Name of Jesus Sounds
In a believer's ear!
It soothes his sorrows, heals his wounds,
And drives away his fear.
It makes the wounded spirit whole,
And calms the troubled breast.
Tis manna to the hungry soul,
And to the weary, rest.

This hymn was written by John Newton, the reformed slave trader. After surviving a deadly African fever, and a disastrous ocean storm, he responded to the reasoning of a pious sea captain and returned to religion. As a curate in England, he met the demented poet, Wm. Cowper. Their lifelong friendship became a source of spiritual strength to both men. Together they wrote several inspiring hymns.

Building Peace and Friendship
IN a war-wracked, undernourished and embittered world, no finer expression of Christian compassion and voluntary statesmanship can be found than that exemplified by the Christian Rural Overseas Program.
Through CROP, America's farm families have shared the abundance of their harvest for four successive years. The impressive total of foodstuffs which was collected for destitute despairing people the world round in this manner of Christian sharing has exceeded $15 million.
CROP's 1951 motto, emblazoned on the organization's national poster, is "Building Peace and Friendship" and indeed the program itself, sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief, embodies a Christian answer to Cain's question: "Am I my brother's keeper?"
This year, while Americans tend their peaceful pursuits in their own country, while harvests of record proportions are anticipated, there are people elsewhere on this globe who despair and starve because their earth cannot yield the wherewithal for survival; who flee the scourge of warfare which destroys their crops. They are the refugees of Western Europe and the Near East. The peasants in Yugoslavia and India, and the millions who have had to forsake homes and livelihood because of warfare in Korea.
To share with these people is a basic Christian duty. In the light of world events, this sharing assumes an even deeper meaning, for it means "Building Peace and Friendship."

Thank Offering
Service at Grace
Church on Sunday
On Sunday at 7:45 p.m., the Women's Society of World Service at Grace Evangelical United Brethren church will present the annual Thank-Offering service.
This missionary service will feature and address and picture slides by the Rev. Ira Wilson. He served five years as a missionary at the Red Bird Mission in Kentucky and in June assumed the pastorate of the church in Polo.
There will be special music, and the offering will be used for the mission program of the Women's Society of World Service. The public is invited.

School Bible Classes Now In Session

Week day Christian education classes were begun this week in four centers. These classes, sponsored by the Dixon Council of Christian education, meet from 8 to 8:45 a.m. in the North Central school on Tuesdays, in the Lincoln school on Wednesdays, in the South Central school on Thursdays, and in the Loveland school on Fridays.

Children in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades are eligible to enroll in the classes, and may register in them at any of the class sessions. The teachers serving in this program of Christian education are: Mrs. Maybel Cross, Mrs. Olive Miller, Mrs. Lillian Peterson, Mrs. Catherine Vinz, and Mrs. Laverne Wade.

Definite graded instructional material is used in the various classes. In the third and fourth grade classes the courses are based on the general theme "If We Had Lived in Bible Times." The fifth and sixth grade groups study the topic "The Story the Bible Tells." In the seventh grade the subject is "The Christian Way of Life." The Dixon Council of Christian education, sponsors of program of week day Christian education, consists of the pastor and representative from each of the various churches in the city.

Educator's Talk Planned at Oregon Meeting

OREGON—The Oregon Mother's club will meet Tuesday at 7:45 p. m. in the study hall of the Mt. Morris high school. This meeting will be in conjunction with the Mt. Morris PTA. Dr. Eleanor Volbarding, social science and mental hygiene instructor, Northern Illinois State Teachers college, DeKalb, will speak on "How Parents Affect a Child's Mental Health." Fathers are invited to attend this open meeting. Supper guests

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hyre and Debbie, DeKalb, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hagemeyer, Esmond, were Sunday supper guests in the George E. Anderson and William Hay home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCracken, Oregon, have returned from a three-week trip to Sacramento, Calif., where they visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hodge spent Sunday in Chicago at the National Shoe convention.

Fractures Hip
Miss Mayne Proctor, well known Oregon resident who resides on North Fifth St., fell last week on the sidewalk and fractured her hip. She is now in Warmolts clinic, where she will remain for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. John Reverts is attending the Illinois Vocational Homemaking teachers convention at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago, through Saturday.

Mrs. Dionne is at the extreme right (visible over the Princess' shoulder). Girls are (left to right): Yvonne, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Annette.

SURGING TIDE OF NATIONALISM—Illustrated on the map above is the great surge of nationalistic, anti-colonialism unrest sweeping from the China coast to North Africa. Long-smoldering, it was really sparked off by Japan. Although the lost World War II, her wartime propaganda slogan "Asia for the Asiatics" lives on and is echoed in the nationalism rampant throughout the Moslem world from Morocco to Pakistan.

NOTHING SARONG WITH THIS—Sonarman Dick Snell, left, of Los Angeles, and Redman Terry McGovern of San Diego beam with Naval approval over the "evening sarong" modeled by Hollywood's French glamor queen Corinne Calvet. The Hawaiian costume was designed for a luau sequence in the movie "Sailor Beware." Snell and McGovern acted as technical experts, attesting to the fact that Corinne's costume would "please the Navy."

JUST FOR A CHANGE—The shortage of small change hit Allentown, Pa., so hard that the Call-Chronicle newspapers mobilized their newspaper boys to collect from subscribers in pennies and nickels. The result was a collection of 500,000 pennies and 26,000 nickels in one week. Here, a group of newsboys turns over a deposit of 100,000 pennies and 5000 nickels to Merchant's National Bank teller Henry Freyman.

One son, Robert Jr., was not present when the photo was taken. The family photo was released recently by the Senator's office in Washington.

Depicted above, the desk-top-sized "pinwheel" would enable one man and special armaments to climb faster than an airplane, and noiselessly float or glide to earth. The self-starting, throttle-controlled contrivance has fuel tanks in the tips of its two small rotor blades, leaves no telltale flame in the sky and could be mass-produced. Developed for the Navy, it is being tested near Los Angeles.

UNITED IN PRAYER—Occupying a joint pew in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, in pre-election prayer services were Britain's two major party leaders, bitter political rivals. At left are Prime Minister Clement Attlee, Labor Party leader, and his wife; at right are former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Conservative Party leader, and Mrs. Churchill.

LUCKY LIZZIE—Renowned as a four-wheeled football talisman, this 1931 Chevrolet was brought to the Michigan campus 14 years ago when the team's slumping fortunes began to recover. It has been passed from one coach to another and currently is owned by Bill Orwig, right, who watches practice with Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. With pre-season figures stacked against them, Wolverine coaches will be kicking the vehicle's tires and fenders and sounding the horn often this year. (NEA)

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A wise man will always be a Christian, because the perfection of wisdom is to know where lies tranquility of mind and how to attain it, which Christianity teaches.—Landon.

One Necessary Guarantee

The head of an oil company recently said that his industry must have one guarantee if progress is to continue. That guarantee, he went on, "is freedom—freedom to explore where we will, freedom to conduct our research, freedom to seek capital and build plants and facilities, freedom to earn profits with which to finance expansion and maintain our credit."

In the course of his talk he pointed out that 8,000 wildcat wells were drilled in this country last year. Of this he said: "Can you imagine the government engaging intelligently and efficiently in a wildcatting operation? Can you imagine the secretary of the interior explaining to a senate committee why they drilled in the 80 per cent of places that proved dry? Or, what is more likely, trying to explain why all the Democratic county chairmen had their ranches drilled on and the Republicans didn't?"

The American oil industry, under the free competitive system of doing things, has been an economic miracle. Last year as much oil was produced as in the whole first 50 years of the industry's history. From oil well to market is a long way—about 1,000 miles on the average. But the industry has built a unique system of distribution which bridges these miles as a matter of routine—and at an extremely small cost to the consumer.

All this has been done in a climate of freedom—which is the only climate that produces the highest possible living standards for all the people.

Into a Cocked Hat

Recent news reports from Washington said that some officials are tending toward the opinion that the only way to bring order out of the chaotic meat situation is to do away with controls of meat altogether.

Whether or not that happens, it is an indication of how badly the controls have disrupted the normal, efficient mechanism of meat production and distribution. Fewer and fewer cattle have been passing through the yards of the established, law-abiding packers. More and more cattle, it is obvious, have gone into other channels. And there have been shortages of certain cuts and kinds of meat in many parts of the country.

From the economic point of view, the situation is insane. At best, the packing industry makes an extremely small profit on meat—an average of a fraction of a cent a pound on all the meat sold at retail. Under normal competitive conditions, the packers actually sell beef to retailers for less than they paid for it as livestock, and the difference, and the modest profit, is made up through the sale of by-products. Under OPS policy, the industry has been knocked into a cocked hat. A late survey showed that legally operating meat packing companies were losing the fantastic sum of up to more than $25 per head each time they handled a choice grade steer. And the legally operating companies cannot compete with operators who sell dressed beef for consumers at prices well above the ceiling and who, consequently, bid up the price of cattle and divert them from the regular channels.

It's a case where the legal business and the consumer take the beating. That always happens when government controls the economy by fiat.

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Exclusively Yours: Scenes for a Hollywood movie satire on communism were filmed in the Russian zone of Vienna, it now can be told, and there will be red faces on the Reds when the word gets around in the Kremlin.

Vivica Lindfors and a camera crew invaded the Red zone for three hours this summer for a sequence in the anti-Communist film, "No Time for Flowers."

Producer Mort Briskin and his associate, Mauri Suess, who made the film in Vienna's British and U. S. zones, unzipped their lips about fooling the Russians now that the film's negative is safe in Hollywood.

"The Russians," Suess said, "never did discover that we were making an anti-Communist film because of the way we broke down the script in jigsaw puzzle fashion. We shot the few scenes we needed in the Red zone and got out fast."

There will be no splashing around in a portable tank at the London Palladium or elsewhere for Esther Williams for at least five years. Ducking rumors of an aquacade tour, Esther told me:

"I just signed a new 10-year contract at MGM. The last five years of the contract permits me six months off each year to go on tour if I want to. I'm not even thinking about a tour until then."

Joe Pasternak's turned Keefe Brasselle into a crooner for "Skirts Ahoy."

"A male Durbin?" I asked him. "No," said Joe, "a man's Sinatra."

The wags are saying that if Elizabeth Taylor and Nicky Hilton reconcile, MGM will change the name of Betsy von Furstenberg, reported engaged to Hilton a month ago. She will be known as Betsy von Seconberg.

PLANS GALORE

Newlyweds Howard Duff and Ida Lupino have more joint movie plans, it now can be told, than Wald-Krasna. One is for Howard to star in Ida's production, "The Man Who Talked to God." Another plan calls for Duff to direct a picture for the production organization headed by Ida and her ex-husband, Collier Young.

The British press is hopping mad at Jack Carson, back on TV after a Palladium stint. They no like Jack's quotes about English women to American newsmen.

Larry Parks' wife Betty Garrett just underwent a second nose-bob operation.

Betty Grable, the subject of Hollywood's biggest guessing game since her suspension from 20th Century-Fox six months ago, whacked a spike right through the rumor that she has any intention of playing kiss-and-make-up with her studio bosses.

Her latest sizzling quote: "I'm disillusioned with my studio. I've fought against all kinds of opposition to make good pictures. I'm an easy-going girl. Why fight?"

"Right now I'm not interested in making films. I won't starve. My husband can support me."

The grapevine, meanwhile, is hinting that Betty will whiz back if the studio buys "Guys and Dolls" for her.

LUCILLE NOT WORRIED

Lucille Ball isn't worried over whether Hollywood film executives will give her the thumbs-down sign for leaping into TV. She howled: "Hollywood. What does Hollywood care about me? Hollywood doesn't miss you whether you're coming or going."

Gene Nelson's on TV despite the Warner studio ban. Look quick and you'll see him as a rugby player filmed 11 years ago.

The fan magazines are screaming about the ruling from RKO and MGM against any home layouts on Stewart Granger and Jean Simmons. . . . Mario Lanza's $4,000 investment in a Nevada tungsten mine just brought him a $100,000 cash offer. He turned it down.

Columbia quietly re-shot the ending of the William Holden starrer, "Boots Malone." Now he's a living, breathing man instead of a corpse at the fadeout.

Vaughn Monroe's due for an all-out movie-star build-up when he starts that long-term contract at Republic.

Howl of the week: A trained seal breaking out with spontaneous applause after Gregory Peck did a big dramatic scene in "The World in His Arms." Director Raoul Walsh plotted the rib.

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Pegler Says Churchill Has Compromised so Much That He Has Lost His Dignity

(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK—My knowledge of British unionism is so sketchy that I would dare say little more than that, of course, the British are so obedient to law that their pickets could never become goons and that mobs like those which have terrorized American communities are unimaginable. But perhaps even that observation would be too daring.

I read a spot news dispatch the day before the election in which Clement Attlee was quoted as having warned the impending Churchill government that they had better not go too far in undoing the nationalization program of the so-called labor party. Or there would be trouble. The subtleties of political repartee in hot campaigns may be deceptive and Attlee may not have wanted to commit himself to a threat of direct action by a class of people who are the least obedient to laws against violence. But that is what I got out of it and it was a shock to me to believe that a British prime minister would warn his successor that he, Attlee, was going to insist on a right of veto, to be enforced by—by what?

We are much less decorous than the British, class for class. Our upper class, meaning, I am afraid, those who like to practice extravagance and over-drunk in gaudy places, certainly are not ladies and gentlemen. Now, I wonder if the British upper classes are. Or are all those old, rather icy but proper and inflexible aristocrats dead or gone to pot? The aristocrats whom they have sent us in recent years have been, on the whole, a vulgar lot, saving some exceptions and they have included some spectacular trash.

Churchill himself, about the best representative there is, of any renown, of the upper classes, is not a dignified man. It seems to me that he has compromised so long in order to appeal to the emotions and favor of the rabble that he has ceased to deserve the title of gentleman in the good meaning of the word. His son is said to have been a brave fellow but, in other respects, I find it hard not to regard him as the Elliott Roosevelt of the Churchill family.

But, after all, the Churchills are more famous than virtuous as an ancient family. They go back a good way, though perhaps no further back than many obscure but well-behaved American and English families who have never bothered to trace their ancestry beyond their grandparents. But the further the Churchills go the less, I should think, they would enjoy the going.

It seems to me that Churchill has discredited the British aristocracy and I search my scant store of up-to-date information on Britain and the British for individuals who personify the dignity, propriety and honor of the superior class. I do not mean to suggest that Churchill like Roosevelt, would use the majesty of his office to trim a sucker in favor of his son, as Roosevelt did. Honor in this sense is a composition of dignity, sincerity and quiet but strict superiority. The true aristocrat knows he is a superior fellow and will not go around trucking to his inferiors for their votes so that he may have the privilege of saving them from their own stupid emotional pettifolies.

"Colonel Blimp," a mythical ass held in derision in Britain these recent years, was absurd mostly because he was a man of principle. We had one here, too, Lt. Gen. Hugh Drum.

The British have had some very bad moments since the first world war. The strike of the Liverpool policemen, about the time of our policemen's strike in Boston, let loose terrible experiences. Liverpool is a tough town, restrained by a gentle rein like a mean horse in the hands of a confident driver. But the riots were terrible once the lower classes realized that there was nothing to restrain them.

It is not correct to speak of the laboring people of this country as the kind who took to the streets and beat up people with clubs and irons during the riots which were deliberately provoked to give the CIO a chance to come into being. True, these rioters were of the laboring class but they were only a very small minority of the laboring class. The majority always cowers in fear of such wild men.

In a movie of such a commotion you note that usually there are only a hundred or fewer on each side in a mob fight. They don't seem to know why they are beating one another, knocking men flat in the streets, unconscious and drooling their front teeth out in dribbles of blood. Someone has excited them, stirred them like animals. They run to and fro gang up in threes and fours on individuals in a mad be-

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Sound Reasoning Won This Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY

It's seldom necessary to pay careful attention to the exact size of a spot-card. What's the difference whether it's a six or a five? But sometimes there is a difference, as may be seen in the hand shown today.

West took the king and ace of clubs, after which he shifted to the eight of spades. Declarer put up dummy's spade, queen, and East won with the ace. East thought things over for a second or to and then returned the eight of diamonds.

South had already lost three tricks, so he had to win the rest if he was to make his contract. Should he try the diamond finesse?

He was obviously going to lose. West had made a vulnerable opening bid, and he couldn't possibly hold a sound opening bid unless he had the king of diamonds. What other play for the contract was there? Could he possibly get rid of four losing diamonds on dummy's spade? South saw that there was a chance—partly because dummy's fourth-highest spade was the six rather than the five.

Since even a chance was better than sure defeat, South put up the ace of diamonds, drew two rounds of trump with the ace and jack, and then led the nine of spades from dummy. South knew that East held the jack of spades since West had led the eight which was clearly West's top spade.

South also knew that West had at least one more spade in his hand, since otherwise East would have returned a spade after taking the ace of that suit.

East dared not cover the nine of spades with his jack. He knew that South would ruff, and that dummy would then have a set up spade suit headed by king-six against his own five-three. Hence East played a low spade, and South discarded a diamond.

When the nine of spades held, declarer continued with the deuce of spades, ruffing in his own hand with the queen of hearts to prevent an over-ruff. Now he could lead a low trump to dummy's king, drawing West's last trump. Three good spades enabled him to discard the rest of his diamonds, assuring the contract.

CARD SENSE

Q—With North-South vulnerable, the bidding has been:

West North East South
1 Heart 1 Spade Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades J-5, Hearts K-J-3-2, Diamonds A-9-5, Clubs Q-J-5-4. What do you do?

A—Bid one no-trump. If your partner has extra values for his overall, it will probably be easy to bid and make a game. Your bid suggests that you have fair strength, and indicates that part of your strength is in the opponent's suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the previous question. You, South, hold: Spades J-5, Hearts K-J-3-2, Diamonds A-Q-5, Clubs Q-J-5-4. What do you do?

RUTH MILLETT

Wife Can Easily Figure Why She Bores Husband

Most women have sense enough to know when they are boring or annoying their husbands.

But a lot of women who know that much don't have the curiosity to sit down and figure out how and why.

It is really a simple thing for a woman to do. First of all she ought to think of all the women who are mutual friends and acquaintances of her husband. She knows pretty well what her husband thinks about all of them.

Sue is a bore because she is always complaining. Nell is good company because she is light-hearted and hives up a party or a small gathering. Martha is quiet but pleasant to be with, because she knows how to listen.

Running through the entire list a woman can pretty well figure out that her Jim or her Bill likes such and such qualities in a woman. Is he bored or annoyed by others HE LIKES A HAPPY ATMOSPHERE He likes a woman with an air of gaiety. Okay, she asks herself "Am I gay or gummy?" He is annoyed by a woman who chatters constantly.

All right, the next question is "Have I fallen into the habit of chattering so constantly, my husband never seems to pay much attention to what I have to say?" He admires a woman who seems to entertain effortlessly and well. "Can I qualify there?"

Only a husband who is rude or unfeeling constantly tells his wife her faults.

But if she really pays attention to his reactions a wife can see how she herself bores or antagonizes her husband. And she can add those likes and dislikes to the list she had made up from his reactions to other women.

This shouldn't be too much trouble for any wife. For if a woman is going to spend her life with a man it will be a far happier life for her if she bores and annoys him as little as possible.

Couple Wed 25 Years Plan Open House

Mr. and Mrs. John Z. Hughes are celebrating their silver wedding anniversary at their home, 605 South Fifth st., Oregon, Sunday, Nov. 4, by holding open house from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. They invite all their friends and relatives to call.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, the former Irene Walker, were married Nov. 6, 1926, at the home of the bride's parents, the late William and Nellie Walker, Mississippi Farm, south of Oregon, by the late Rev. C. H. Hightower, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, Mt. Morris.

They have one son, Wayne, 10 years old. The first four years of their marriage they lived in Mt. Morris but have lived at their present home for 21 years.

Mr. Hughes has been employed by Kable Printing Company, Mt. Morris, for 23 years.

Palmyra Grange Fall Festival, Party Are News

Among the recent activities of Palmyra Grange was the annual Fall Festival held Oct. 26. A large display of flowers, home canned fruit and jelly, fancywork and baked goods donated by the women of the grange helped to make the evening a success while the men did their share in displaying corn and vegetables.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, the grange held its annual Halloween party. Many unusual masks and costumes were worn with Mrs. George Muntean of Galt and Glenn Knuth, Sterling, receiving first prizes.

During the dancing a number of the children learned to square dance. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The lumbering town of Cleveland, Nova Scotia, was named in honor of American President Grover Cleveland in 1891.

This Saturday night is Party Night for Dixon's High School set. Members of the Catholic Youth of Dixon have been busy working on plans and decorations for the event to be held from 9 till 12 o'clock at St. Anne's hall with all high school age fellows and girls invited. Painting signs and working on decorations for the event are a number of the committee members above, left to right: Margo Cahill, Mary Dixon, Pat Pieschel, Pat Huggins, Kathy Drew, Helen Gorham and Roberta Harkins.

Practical Club

Practical Club members and guests will be entertained at the home of Mrs. A. N. Boyd at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Mrs. Vernon Mays will be assisting hostess. There will be a dessert luncheon and Miss Mary Campbell as guest speaker will present her European travelogue.

Annual Pageant

The upper grade teachers of South Central school met Wednesday evening with Miss Mary Alice Buchanan, principal, to read the script for the annual fall pageant to be presented Friday evening, Dec. 7.

The presentation this year, "On Our Way", concerns the responsibilities of education. Grades five through eight will participate.

Foreign Travel Visits Hawaii Through Movies

Members and guests at Thursday evening's meeting of the Foreign Travel club took an imaginary trip to Hawaii as pictures of this beautiful place were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Shaw. Incidents experienced during their recent journey to Hawaii that would be of interest to their fellow club members were told in a most illustrative and informal manner by the Shaws.

Among the many colored movies taken by the Dixonites were scenes of a great variety of Hawaiian flowers, outstanding entertainment and dances, put on for the benefit of the tourists, and architecture of the vicinity. They commented on the grand hospitality show them everywhere they went and in their pictures was seen the greeting given travelers as the Lurline docked in Hawaii.

Christmas Dinner Foreign Travel club members will meet next for their Christmas dinner.

One-Fourth of Illinois Towns Unprepared for A-Bomb Attack

CHICAGO, (AP)—Illinois still is far from being all set to defend itself against a possible enemy A-bomb attack.

About a fourth of the state's communities are lagging in setting up local civil defense machinery. This is delaying the state's overall preparations to limit casualties to the minimum.

This was disclosed today when

Lenox R. Lohr, state civil defense director, reported that 135 communities in various sections of Illinois "have taken no discernible action" in creating local SD organizations.

Are Critical Targets

Several of these cities are in critical target areas—places which military experts believe would be the first objects of atomic bombing or other forms of enemy attack ever comes.

Others are farm from these critical areas, but nevertheless have a vital role to perform in the state's civil defense plan.

There are 470 cities in Illinois of 1,000 or more population—222 in critical target areas.

Weather Throws One-Two Punch in West; -29 in Montana

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter weather's two-ply punch, snow and cold, hit wide areas of the country today, spreading a spell of mid-Autumn mildness.
There was lots of snow—in the Northeast, the Midwest, the Rocky Mountain region, and even in Texas. Falls in some areas were the heaviest on record for so early in the season.
Freezing rains added to the discomfort and made motor travel hazardous in many areas. Strong winds and sub-freezing and sub-zero temperatures belied the date. Winter season's official start is seven weeks away.
Widespread Cold
The cold weather was extensive—from the Rockies to the New England states and south into Texas. Not much warming was in prospect immediately. Blizzard warnings were issued last night by the weather bureau to motorists and stockmen in northeastern New Mexico.
Northern Texas areas shivered and sloshed in below freezing and snow. The mercury stayed below freezing all day yesterday in Amarillo, reaching a high of 27.
Seven-Inch Snow
Heavy snowfalls struck over the Oklahoma-Texas Panhandle. They measured seven inches at Guyton, Okla., and five inches at Perryton, Tex. Wichita Falls got the earliest snowfall on record since the weather bureau was established in that North Texas city in 1931. Freezing rains glazed highways in many parts of the state.
Five persons were killed on highways in accidents attributed to the weather—three in New York state and two in Colorado.
It looked and felt more like mid-winter in many Midwest and Western states.
Six Inches at Denver
A snow storm which moved across the border from Canada left six inches of light snow at Denver. The blanket of white spread as far east as Dodge City, Kan., which reported a fall of three inches.
As the snow storm spread south last night, an icy blast of sub-zero cold crept in. It was -2 at Denver and below zero readings were reported in other northern Colorado and Wyoming cities.
There also were sub-zero readings in Midwest regions—the Dakotas and Minnesota. Readings were 10-15 above zero during the day near the Canadian border and in the 20's and low 30's in the Central Plains states.
29 In Montana
The coldest spot was in Montana. The weather bureau at Helena said thermometers dipped to -29 at Summit in Glacier National park. The snow on the ground measured 35 inches.
There were a few warm spots, too. They were the extreme Southeast and most of the far Southwest. It was a balmy 85 in Miami and Jacksonville yesterday; 84 in Tampa and Brownsville, Tex., and 68 in Los Angeles.

ROCKFORD WOMAN KILLED
ROCKFORD, (AP) —Mrs. Inez Hudson, 47, Rockford, was killed last night in a train-automobile collision in Rockford.
Her husband, Harry, 54, who was driving the car, was injured. The automobile collided with a Milwaukee railroad steam locomotive.

Convict Western Union, Official On Gaming Count

BRIDGETON, N. J., (AP) —A jury has convicted the Western Union Telegraph Co. and its local office manager of maintaining a disorderly house where persons placed bets.
The huge communications firm issued a statement immediately after its conviction yesterday that it would appeal the decision, which may affect laws governing the interstate transmission of messages.
It took the seven-man, five-woman Cumberland county jury six and one-half hours to find the company and its Bridgeton office manager, Charles H. Frake, guilty of the charges.
Western Union faces a possible maximum fine of $1,000, and Frake a $1,000 fine or three years in prison, or both.

Nov. 22 Set as Thanksgiving Day by Truman

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Formally proclaiming Nov. 22 as Thanksgiving Day, President Truman yesterday called on his fellow Americans on that day to "seek divine aid in the quest for peace."
"Our hearts impel us, once again in this autumnal season, to turn in humble gratitude to the giver of our bounties," Truman said.
"We are profoundly grateful for the blessings bestowed upon us: The preservation of our freedom, so dearly bought and so highly prized; our opportunities for human welfare and happiness, so limitless in their scope; our material prosperity, so far surpassing that of earlier years; and our private spiritual blessings, so deeply cherished by all. For these we offer fervent thanks to God."
Congress in 1941 specified that Thanksgiving Day fall annually on the fourth Thursday of November.

Delayed Delivery

LINCOLN, ILL. —(AP)— Jack Bushell ordered some Bavarian china in 1945 while he was on war duty in Germany.
He paid $90 for it and was promised delivery in "a year or so."
Jack wanted the china as a gift for his mother. However, she died in 1948.
The china arrived a few days ago.

Anti-Truman Dixie Demos Holding Fire

SELMA, ALA. —(AP)— Rebelious Dixie Democrats tested the anti-Truman winds here yesterday but failed to come up with any specific plan to keep him from heading the party ticket again.
Even the keynote speaker, Virginia's Senator Harry Byrd, caustic critic of the Truman administration, had nothing concrete to suggest as to what course the South should take.
At next year's national convention Southern Democrats should press for return to the two-thirds rule for picking the party nominees, he said, and seek to revise the party platforms so it will be more acceptable to the South.
There was a strong undertone in his address to the Dallas county Farm Bureau hunting that the southern states have 128 electoral votes which could go to someone other than the national party nominee.
Almost nothing was decided in the well advertised "strategy caucus" of States Righters, passed up by most of the top brass among Southern Democrats.
Sentiment of many present was sounded by Gov. Herman Tamm of Georgia, who gave this explanation of why he skipped the caucus: "I want to see the whites of their eyes before I fire."
About 400 showed up for the caucus.

Debate on Truth

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman's claim that the truth is the Democratic party's best weapon drew this retort from Chairman Guy Gabrielson of the Republican national committee:
"The people know the truth and are prepared to turn to the Republican party for leadership."
Truman made his challenge in a letter of congratulation Wednesday to the newly-elected Democratic national chairman, Frank K. McKinney. Gabrielson countered in a statement last night.

Perhaps the largest gun ever built was "Little David," designed by the U. S. Army to attack the German Siegfried line in World War II but never used.

Accused of Doping Halloween Treats, Silvis Man Is Held

SILVIS, (AP) — Police today awaited a chemist's analysis of Halloween candy which made 13 youthful "trick-or-treat" revelers violently ill.
Police Chief Leo Linnabary said the children, ranging in age from three to 14, told their parents the candy was given to them Wednesday night by Orville Pomeroy of Silvis.
Thirteen assault charges were filed against Pomeroy yesterday.
Linnabary said an East Moline chemist was trying to learn the ingredients of small pills found in the candy.
He said the pills, "about as big as BB shot," were embedded in marshmallow candy and coconut cakes.
Police Magistrate Lawrence Dodd freed Pomeroy on $400 bond yesterday on a disorderly conduct charge filed by police. Linnabary said the bond would hold for the 13 assault charges.

Return 110,000 GI's, Reserves, From Far East

WASHINGTON —(AP)— More than 110,000 soldiers have been returned from the Far East, the army said yesterday, and 112,000 enlisted men and 7,300 officers have been sent to replace them and to strengthen forces in Korea.
The total number brought back, as of Oct. 31, included 30,000 men whose enlistments have expired. The army said most enlisted reservists have already come home and those remaining will be brought back in time to be released by Dec. 20.
The army said present plans call for the transfer from Korea by Dec. 1 of almost all enlisted men in combat units who arrived before last Jan. 1. But many combat officers and non-combat enlisted men will have to remain there through part of the winter, the army said.

Bookies Shy From Registering For Federal Gambling Permit

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It was hard to lay a bet today in many cities across the land. The numbers runners and horse race bookies were shutting up shop —temporarily at least.
The odds were against the professional gamblers—a tax miracle worked by Uncle Sam.
A new law, effective yesterday, requires them to register. Pay a $50 annual fee to operate and 10 per cent of their gross receipts in federal taxes.
Don't Like It
And if they register, their names are available for the police to see. The boys don't like that.
Which is worse, they pondered—a federal jail for failing to pay the tax or a local jail for violating state gambling laws?
On top of that worry was the tax imposed in the new law.
Reports of bookie shutdowns came from many places, among them New York, Boston, Baltimore, Los Angeles, New Orleans, Atlanta, Cleveland, St. Louis, Miami, Maine, Rhode Island.
As one Boston bookie put it: "That 10 per cent of the handle, brother, that ain't hay."
In New York, few street bookmakers were working.
22 Close
Twenty-two of Nevada's 24 state-licensed bookmakers went out of business.
Aside from taking professional vacations, the gentlemen of the fast buck crowd also proved to be shy creatures about registering.
Across the land, they stayed home.
In Baltimore on a visit, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) took a pessimistic view of the betting fraternity's withdrawal.

INGLEWOOD, Calif., (AP) — Donald Henderson, 13, doesn't like school, and he landed himself in General hospital trying to prove it.
Donald took 15 to 25 sleeping pills before school yesterday, police said, and then left his mother a note. It read in part:
"Dear Mom: I took the easy way out. I just don't want to go to school."

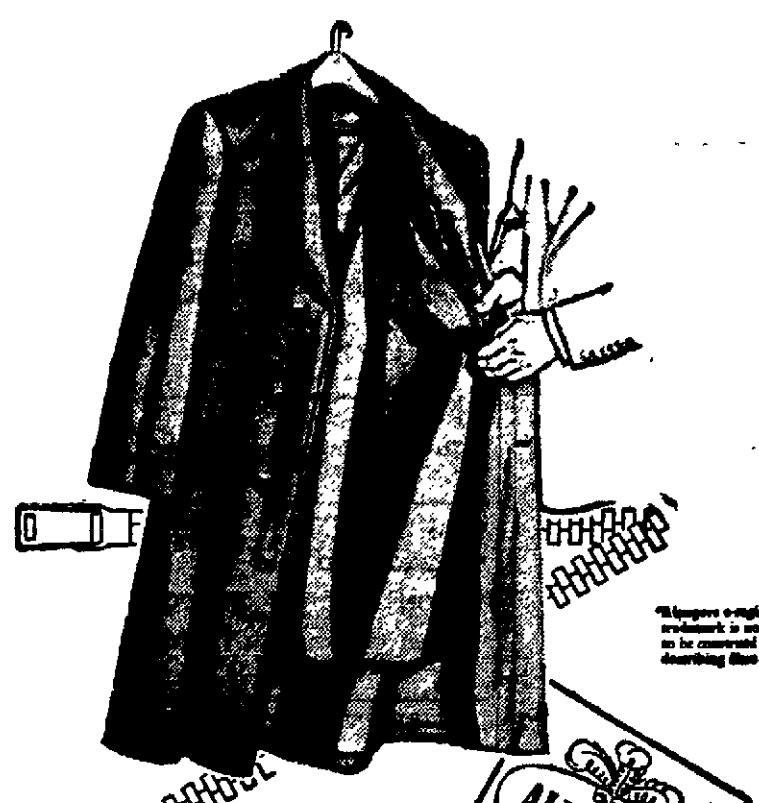

Crocks Help in Reds' Defeat

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia, (AP)—Bullets and crocodiles put three Red terrorists to flight in the Sungai Paka area of Trengganu.
Fire by a security force patrol forced the trio out of a boat. Crocodiles took after them. Two terrorists disappeared. The third braved crocodiles and bullets and managed to reach a mangrove swamp.

College Head To Speak at Amboy Meet

AMBOY — Dr. Mary Ashby Cheek, president of Rockford college, will be guest speaker at the Amboy Women's club meeting Monday afternoon.

The appearance of Dr. Cheek was arranged by Mrs. Charles Loos, head of the club's international relations department. The meeting which will be held at Pankhurst Memorial library, will begin at 2:30. Guest day will be observed and members are to bring guests. Music for the program will be furnished by the Amboy high school music department.

The refreshment committee will be Mrs. Robert G. Nowe, Mrs. John McGowan, Mrs. Holly Smith, Mrs. Harry Bishop, Mrs. Earl Antoine, Mrs. Alice Childs and Mrs. R. W. Ruckman.

Bridge Club

Members of the JFF Bridge club met with Mrs. Harold Carroll last Thursday evening. In the games of auction, high score prize was won by Mrs. James Thompson, all-cut prize by Miss Marie Rosa. Mrs. Gene Strouss was a guest and received the guest prize. Mrs. M. G. Mihm and Miss Ethel Ross were presented birthday gifts from the group. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Albert Hillison.

Amboy Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pomeroy and daughter, Minneapolis, are guests at the Fyron R. Blee home. Pomeroy went to Chicago and attended a conference of National Grease manufacturers at the Edgewater Beach hotel. He returned to Amboy Wednesday night and the Pomeroy's will visit with the Blee's until Saturday.

Elmer Simcox has purchased the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E.

C. Smith on E. Division st. Smith has resigned his position as manager of the Amboy A and P store and will leave to next week for Florida where he plans to locate. Mrs. Smith and their son Tommy will join him when he finds a residence. They are visiting for the present with relatives in Polo.

Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Wilson and son Robert have moved to Amboy from Mount Morris. Dr. Wilson has opened the office which Dr. N. B. Podorney occupied in the Entorf building over the Public Service company's Amboy office and has begun his chiropractic work.

Sen. Taft in Chicago; Opens Campaign

CHICAGO, (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) was in Chicago today for the official start of the Republican campaign season in Illinois.

Taft, the only announced major presidential candidate thus far, will be the speaker at the united Republican dinner tonight. The dinner, a $100 a plate affair, is the kickoff event for GOP campaign season in Illinois.

4,300 Tickets Sold

Some 4,300 tickets have been sold for the dinner at the International Amphitheater and the even is expected to net more than $400,000 for party expenses in the coming campaign.

The Ohio senator arrived last night by plane at Municipal airport. Several hundred persons were on hand at the landing.

The GOP ticket in the Illinois campaign received another name yesterday. State Sen. Edward P. Saitell of Chicago announced he will seek the nomination for attorney general. He joins J. Kenneth Baird of Evanston in the primary race for the post.

Hoffman In Race

Elmer J. Hoffman, former sheriff of Du Page county, announced yesterday he will run for state treasurer on the GOP ticket. He is the first to announce for the post.

Four candidates have announced their intention to run for the GOP gubernatorial nomination and a fifth is expected next week. Friends of Park Livingston, of La Grange, president of the University of Illinois board of trustees, says he is almost ready to announce his candidacy.

Already Announced

Previously announced candidates for governor are State Rep. Orville Hodge of Granite City; William G. Stratton of Morris, state treasurer; William N. Erickson of Evanston, chairman of the Cook county board of commissioners; and Richard Yates Rowe of Jacksonville, former state treasurer.
